EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is said that the telegraph operators of New York and Brooklyn are arranging for a strike and have organized a secret association under the presidency of Mr. Campbell, who is the grand chief operator of the Consolidated Telegraphers' Protective Association. The telegraph business is good and there are few operators out of employment. They are paid from $25 to $95 a month, and they claim that it is not enough, nor are they graded justly. The operators claim that some men are worth twice as much as others, and that there should be a fixed gradation of wages. The hours for operators are seven for night men and nine for day men. The operators of Denver, Col., (which is the repeating office for New Mexico, Colorado and a part of Arizona,) are on a strike. The Protective Association is the telegraphic branch of the Knights of Labor organization, and is a very strong body—including many of the best operators.

A recent medical writer, who is also something of a philosopher, asserts that nine out of ten cases of suicide are to be accounted for by an apprehension of future trouble rather than an experience of present distress. That is to say, men are far more inclined to kill themselves because of ills which are imaginary and intangible than of those which are existent and actual. This fact, he goes on to show, in an interesting way, applies with more or less force and suggestiveness to the general manner of looking at life. The germ of this morbid sentiment that drives so many persons to self-murder is an inherent trait of human nature, he contends, and is illustrated in the daily fretting and worrying with which we make ourselves miserable when we might as well be having a good time.

Although imprisonment for debt has been abolished in England, 5,444 people were last year sent to jail for non-payment of debts. The explanation is that a court can commit for a period not exceeding six weeks any judgment debtor (owing under $250) who has, or since the debt of his judgment has had, the means to pay the sum in respect of which he has made default. If the debt exceeds $250 he can go through the Bankruptcy Court, and begin again with obligations lifted.

Montreal, Canada, must be the earthly heaven of letter-writing lovers. The postal officials there refuse point blank to deliver letters to any person other than the one to whom the letter is addressed. A husband cannot get his wife's mail, nor can a father successfully demand the correspondence intended for his children, provided the children are more than nine years of age. It has been so decided, and so it remains.

De Witt Talmage says: "I do not assert it, but I should not be surprised if, after all, St. John's description of the horses in heaven turned out not altogether figurative, but somewhat literal." If Talmage is right, the jockeys on the track may not, after all, end when the turf covers them in.

The Vicksburg Herald takes the ground that "there is no more useful, no more legitimate, no more beneficial way in which the people's money can be spent, than in the improvement of the navigable rivers and necessary harbors of the country."

Miles Finlen of Storey county is being talked of for State Treasurer. He has always been a consistent Democrat, and would doubtless carry his party vote.

General S. H. Mariette is a candidate for Surveyor-General and will present his name to the Republican State Convention.

The Footlight says: W. H. Gibson, of Gold Hill, would like to be Lieutenant-Governor for the next four years.

Dr. Meigs is being talked of in Elko for State Senator.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

Trouble With Negroes.

MOBILE, August 21.
In Choctaw county, Alabama, on the 15th instant, a bundle of papers, disclosing a well-organized plot among the negroes to kill the entire white population of that county, was found near one of their rendezvous by two gentlemen, who laid the matter before the Solicitor. On the 16th a quiet meeting of the citizens of Mount Sterling and Butler was called at Butler to consider the best mode of suppressing the intended outbreak and massacre. After a discussion it was determined that the ringleaders, Jack Turner, F. D. Barney, Aaron Scott, Jesse Wilson, Peter Hill, Willis Lyman and Rouge West, to whom had been assigned the duties of leading the respective squads to Butler, Mount Sterling, Desotoville and other places, should be arrested and lodged in jail. Their arrest was effected on the 17th instant, without disturbance or bloodshed. The same day a mass meeting of citizens of all classes was called for Saturday, to decide the fate of the prisoners. The plot has been in existence since 1878, and the conspirators now number 400. They have powder, shot and guns, and think themselves sufficiently strong to accomplish their fiendish design. Sunday night, September 17, had been appointed for its consummation. The papers further showed that this day was selected because the white people would then be at a camp meeting, unarmed, and could offer no resistance. The meeting called for Saturday brought together about 700 men, among whom were about 150 negroes, who, after hearing the papers read, unanimously decided that Jacob Turner was a turbulent and dangerous character, a regular fire-brand in the community, and that the public good demanded his death. He was accordingly hanged at 1:15 the same afternoon in the presence of the assembled multitude. The crowd then dispersed and all signs of the disturbance ceased. Everything was quiet on Saturday night. The other prisoners are still in jail to await further developments.

A Fiendish Triple Murder.

CHICAGO, August 22.

A Mount Pulaski, Ill., special says: McMahon, the farmer, who, with his hired men, fell victims to assassins near here, was owner of a splendid farm, where he dwelt in a quiet, retired way, as becomes men of fortune. He had accumulated a large fortune. He was a bachelor and did his own house-keeping, John Carlock, aged 18, and Bob Matheny, aged 20, being the only other men about the place. Both were quiet and industrious, and, like McMahon, much esteemed. They were last seen on Thursday week, stacking wheat. The neighbors, observing their absence, searched for them Saturday and Sunday, and finally found all their bodies, festering and offensively odorous, in the rank weeds about the house. McMahon's throat was cut from ear to ear, and the head almost severed from the body, the gash extending clear down to the spinal column. There was no shape to the battered head, about which a cloth had been tied. The bodies of Carlock and Matheny were covered with clotted gore; their throats were cut as their master's had been, and their limbs were bound securely with twine taken from a reaping machine. They had been gagged and blindfolded with cloths. Everything pointed to the most fiendish deliberation. The house was ransacked, two thousand dollars in money taken and the household goods broken. The coroner's jury decided that the murder was committed by unknown persons, but the whole country is a buzz and lynching will be inevitable if the murderers can be found. Suspicion rests on a man who worked for the farmer some months ago, who was seen on the farm Thursday. Footprints, as of two men walking in single file, were discovered and followed two miles across lots, until the trail was lost in the main road. There are no other clues. The assassins had watered and fed the horses and taken other precautions to prevent the discovery of the crime. They were no novices in the dreadful work. Jackie, who is suspected, is a tramping farm hand, and quarrelled with McMahon about a year ago.

Trying to Buy a Governor.

ALBANY, August 22.

The Evening Journal reiterates and emphasizes its declaration that an attempt was made by Conkling in the interest of Jay Gould to bribe Governor Cornell to sign bills relieving the Elevated Railroad and Pacific Steamship Companies from certain large assessments in New York. Instead of retracting anything it said last week, or modifying it, the Journal says the ex-Senator occupied several hours presenting his views on the elevated railroad tax bill to the Governor. Certain gentlemen known to be on intimate terms with the ex-

Senator also made earnest appeals to Cornell to sign the bills. Cornell was informed by go-betweens that a block of new stock was to be issued and that if the Governor would comply with Gould's and Conkling's wishes they would not only refrain from any Conkling's affections, but would secure him the friendly offices of such newspapers as are owned or controlled by Gould. In the case of the Pacific Mail tax bill, the Journal declares, in addition to what it said last week, that Gould and Conkling's go-betweens followed the Governor to Saratoga on the first of August and there piled him with importunities to sign the bill. This they did squarely in Conkling's name and behalf. In making these charges and exposures the Journal is suspected, with good reason, of wanting to injure Cornell as well as Conkling. Cornell has undoubtedly authorized the statements, but they are injuring his prospects for nomination, rather than helping them.

The Indian Trouble.

OMAHA, August 22.

A dispatch received here yesterday, at military headquarters, from Colonel Sumner, commanding at Fort Robinson, says matters are in a more satisfactory condition among the Sioux of Pine Ridge agency, and that Red Cloud has been arrested and put on parole, the other chiefs and police being responsible for his good behavior. From a letter received here from agent McGillicuddy it is known that the letter signed by 53 chiefs, containing threats, etc., and sent to Colonel Sumner, was written by one Godfrey, living in Nebraska, and who claims to be a friend of Secretary Teller. "Woman's Dress" has been working in with Red Cloud for some time to get Red Cloud to help make him (Woman's Dress) a chief. He is making trouble and if he continues, agent McGillicuddy threatens to put him in the guard house. The majority of the Indians who signed the threatening letter, did not know its contents. As far as an outbreak is concerned, agent McGillicuddy says the Indians will kill Red Cloud if necessary. He demands that the leaders of the movement be sent to Fort Leavenworth, or that the Department stand the consequences. McGillicuddy closes his letter by saying that there must be decisive action, as it is an open rebellion on the part of a few Indians, and he asks for instructions.

Hanged by a Mob.

DENVER, August 22.

Ryder, who stabbed McGarvey near Fort Hyon last Friday, was taken from the jail at West Las Animas on the night of the 20th and hanged by a mob of 40 or 50 masked men supposed to be soldiers from the fort. Thus ends the second chapter of the killing of McGarvey, and the end is not yet, as Major Brayton, commanding at the fort, is exercising all diligence in his power to ferret out who composed the mob.

FOREIGN TELEGRAPH.

EGYPT'S TROUBLE.

LONDON, August 21.

The Daily News has the following from Suez: I have just returned from Chalouff, where I witnessed the conclusion of a fight in which 250 of our men, including the Highlanders, blue jackets and marines, brilliantly defeated twice their number. The fight lasted from 11 o'clock in the morning until nearly 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The firing of the Highlanders was remarkable for coolness and steadiness. The Gatlings in the tops of the gunboats worked with admirable precision and did much execution among the enemy, who advanced within 100 yards of the bank of the canal. The success was more brilliant owing to the extremely difficult nature of the country, which abounded with low ridges and water courses. Lieutenant Lang, of the Highlanders, gallantly crossed the fresh-water canal in the face of a heavy fire and brought back a boat, thus enabling a company each of Highlanders and marines to cross and take the enemy on the right flank. The enemy fought bravely and their commander was killed.

LONDON, August 21.

Another report, from Admiral Hewitt, dated Suez, August 21, 6:15 P. M., makes the enemy's loss in the fight at Chalouff 168 killed and 626 prisoners. The latter includes 27 wounded.

PORT SAID, August 21.

Entry into the Suez canal is forbidden by the English at both ends of the canal.

SUEZ, August 22.

Victor De Lesseps informed an interviewer today that his father, Count De Lesseps had held actually no communication with Arabi Pasha, with the exception of dispatching telegrams at the request of the Greek Consul interceding for the safety of Europeans in the territory occupied by Arabi Pasha's forces. He further says that his father, Count De Lesseps, is perfectly satisfied that Arabi Pasha will not interfere with the canal if the English don't make it a base of operations.

LONDON, August 22.

The majority of the French papers comment very unfavorably on the action of the British in occupying the Suez canal.

Ireland's Trouble.

DUBLIN, August 22.

A conference of delegates from the Celtic Confederation was held here today. Justin McCarthy, Member of Parliament, presided. On motion of Mr. Sexton, Member of Parliament, an executive committee was formed, consisting of representatives of the Irish Parliamentary party and prominent members of the Land League. The conference adopted addresses to Parnell, expressing a determination to form an association which shall extend to the different classes in Ireland those efforts which have hitherto proved so fruitful in the direction of land reform.

Granted a New Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 22.

The Supreme Court has affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of the people against Messer Smith, in which defendant was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of his wife some two years ago in this city. Messer Smith has had two trials, both times being convicted of murder in the first degree.

THE WOLF AND THE DOG.

A True Tale by General John R. Kittrell.

General Kittrell says the departure for the Great East of Lieutenant Governor Adams and Captain Matt Canavan, both candidates for gubernatorial honors, reminded him of a story he once heard about a wolf dog. The General says a gentleman in Pennsylvania wanted a good wolf dog, and finding one highly recommended concluded to buy him if he suited, but refused to make the purchase before giving him a trial. A wolf was procured and turned loose in a field and the dog put on the track. The wolf went over the plain hotly pursued by the dog until they were both out of sight. The gentleman and his friend started after the animals on horseback. Coming to an old Dutchman splitting rails, they inquired if he had seen anything of the wolf and dog. "Yah," said the rail-splitter. "Well, how is it?" inquired the would-be dog purchaser, "which one had the best of it?" "Yah," said Hans, "I think the dog had liddie the best of it as he was a liddle ahead."

Kittrell says, however, that it don't go if either Canavan or Adams hear of it.

THE PROSPECTS.

What is Doing on the Comstock, and What May Happen.

Nineteen hundred and eighty-two will tell the story for the great Comstock. While at present there is nothing, still there is hope for developments in the new ground that is being opened. They are now opening a level in Sierra Nevada 1,300 feet north of the south line on the 2,700 level; also on the 2,900 at the Union line. The Union is prospecting from the same point; Mexican is cross cutting on the 2,700 level and is also sinking a winze in ore 130 feet from the Union line. They are also crosscutting in two places from a drift running north from the Ophir-Mexican winze. Ophir is running south from this winze on the 2,700 and 2,800 levels; Con. Virginia is just beginning work on the 2,700. A crosscut is going in on the line between B. & B. and Con. Virginia on the 2,500 level under where Penroyer reported ore 200 feet above. G. & C. and B. & B. have commenced to open what correspond with cuts on the 2,500 level of Con. Virginia. The Combination Shaft (which means Savage, Norcross, Chollar and Potosi) has thin pumps down below the 2,650 level, and are now sinking a pump which will be finished Wednesday or Thursday. Then they will open the 2,820 level 250 feet below their last level. At the 2,400 level they passed through a body of quartz over forty feet where assays were found of over $50. The 2,650 crosscut will go immediately under this prospect. They will have 300 to 350 feet to run, and the foreman says he can run 100 feet a week. Thirty days will show what is in this level. The shaft runs through favorable looking streaks of quartz below the 2,400 level. The south end of the Chollar and Potosi is under water. Nothing will be done at Alta until other mines go to work and help to handle the water.

RETURNING TO THE NORTH END, Very little work has been done to show whether there is any ore on the 2,700 or 2,900 Sierra Nevada, 2,900 Union, 2,900 Mexican and Ophir, 2,700 Con. Virginia and California, and none at all on the 2,500 G. & C. and B. & B. or the 2,650 Chollar Potosi, Savage and Norcross. Taking the cutting up of all this ground, which will be done in the next 90 days, with the favorable indications in the levels above, there is a good probability of getting something worth while. From the north line of Sierra Nevada to the south line of Potosi is nearly a mile and three-quarters, with lines being cut two and three hundred feet below the old works. Future chances can be calculated on the basis that if the new works open bodies of ore there is still a thousand feet below that can be worked without any different machinery. If these levels fail to show up ore the deep mines will no doubt have to be dropped, but as will be seen, the case is by no means a hopeless one. That some of the best posted men in the State have not lost hope is certain.

He Wanted to Ride.

"Let me out of here, for heaven's sake," said a voice which came in supplicant tones from a loaded cattle car, says the Silver State, as Jerry Nicholas, who seals cars, etc., passed along a cattle train which arrived here from Wells yesterday. The car from which the supplication came was loaded with steers, and Mr. Nicholas could not believe that a man could be locked in there with the cattle and live. He investigated the matter, however, and found that an ingenious tramp, who had determined, at the risk of his life, to beat the railroad, had fixed a board, just large enough to sit on, in the corner of the car, and on that perch he rode from Humboldt Wells, some two hundred miles. Had he lost his balance, or in any way got down on the floor of the car, he would have been stamped to death beyond all doubt, as the most reckless vaquero will not venture into a car among cattle even when armed with a good stick.

Anti-Monopolists.

The Methodist church picnic to take place to-morrow at Steamboat, will be a grand success. Every arrangement for a good time has been completed, and all the young folks in town are going.

A Fair Crop.

John Guthrie has just finished threshing his barley crop, and the Silver State says that while the yield per acre was less than usual, it was not so light as he anticipated. One hundred and sixty acres yielded 2,500 sacks, which average 180 pounds each.

Married.

Miss Sadie B. Eist, of Franktown, a young lady well known here, was married at Virginia on the 16th inst. to T. A. Scott.

New Paymaster.

George T. Mills is now paymaster of the V. & T. and C. & C. Railroad companies, vice C. E. Langdon.

TOO MUCH WILL POWER.

It Draws the Man with a Large Bill Very Speedily.

Three or four citizens were the other day having a confab at the entrance of the City Hall in regard to will power, and there was one of the group who dared to go far enough to assert that a man of a strong will power could draw a person to him from a distance of 100 feet.

"Try it—try it!" exclaimed one whose faith was slight.

"I don't say that I can do it, for I may not have the strength of will."

"Well, there's a man down by the gate who is looking up and down as if undecided. Bend your will on him and see if you can draw him this way."

"I'll try it, just to please you," replied the advocate, and he fastened his gaze on the man, clenched his hands, and put forth a mighty effort. The man at the gate seemed to feel it. He looked across at the monument, down the street, and then up at the hall.

"I'll be hanged if you aren't doing it!" whispered one of the group.

The advocate braced himself for a greater effort, and the man at the gate left his place and started for the building. He advanced like one in a dream, and not a man dared move a hand. He came closer and closer, and as he reached the steps he pulled a paper from his pocket, held it up to the man with the will power, and quietly remarked:

"Mr. Blank, here's the old bill for three cords of wood! I'm tired of trotting around after you, and want my money to-day, or I'll bring suit!"

A Shaky Corn Field.

In Colorado is a 10-acre field which is simply a subterranean lake covered with soil about eighteen inches deep. On the soil is cultivated a field of corn which produces 30 bushels to the acre. If anyone will take the trouble to dig a hole the depth of a spade handle, he will find that it will fill up with water, and by using a hook and line, fish five or six inches long may be caught. The fish have neither scales nor eyes, and are perch like in shape. The ground is black and marl in nature, and in all probability was at one time an open body of water, on which accumulated vegetable matter, which has been increased from time to time, until now it is a crust sufficiently strong and rich to produce fine corn, although it has to be cultivated by hand, as it is not strong enough to bear the weight of a horse. While harvesting, the hands catch great strings of fish by making a hole through the earth. A person rising on his heels and coming down suddenly can see the growing corn shake all around him.

The Missing Sheep-Herder Turns Up.

The sheep-herder, August Brim, of Humboldt, who wrote on a box in the sheep camp that he thought he "petter deek some boison," and then disappeared, leaving it to be inferred that he had committed suicide, has been heard from. He was striking out for the north country. He stopped at a sheep camp, where he thought he would not be known, and stayed all night, and then resumed his journey north. He was known by the name of August Brim by his employers, and there was about two months' wages due him when he left. His conduct can be accounted for only upon the hypothesis that he was a fugitive from justice, and thought that some wool-buyers at the ranch were officers who wanted to arrest him, as he appeared to be perfectly sane.

The Cherry Creek Stage Robbery.

The Silver State of August 19, says: The stage robbery to which the Silver State referred yesterday as having been committed near Cherry Creek, occurred within a mile and a half of Sprucemont, on the road between Humboldt Wells and Cherry Creek. J. N. Thacker, special officer of Wells, Fargo & Co., went to the scene to endeavor to find some clue to the perpetrators. He stated a week ago that they had traced the Kelton stage robbers into Nevada, but as he had to appear as a witness in a case at Los Angeles, Cal., he could not follow them. He is satisfied the same men who robbed the Kelton stage twice, committed the robbery at Sprucemont.

A Young Drunk.

Yesterday afternoon a lad about 17 years of age, who is well connected in this city, says the Carson Appeal, was seen staggering through Carson in a horrible state of intoxication. This is no common occurrence with him, as he has been seen in that condition several times within the past few months. He is not only addicted to the inordinate use of liquor, but it is said that he is also a veteran opium smoker. If nothing is done for him he will fill an early grave, or a cell in an insane asylum or State Prison.
